Corporation Counsel Lacombe informs the police that hotel keepers violate the law when they sell any spirituous liquors on Sunday even to persons whose actual homes are the hotels

1857, as amended by chapter 549 of the laws of 1873,

No inu, tavern, or botel keeper, or other person shall sell or give away intoxicating fiquors or wines on Sun-day to any person whatever as a beverage. Whoever shall offend against the provisions of this section shall shall offend against the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished for each offsnce by a fine of not less than £30 nor more than £300, or by imprisonment not less than five days nor more than fity days or both, such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the Court."

The plain language of this section remains, so far as I have been able to discover, unqualified by subsequent legislation or the decision of the courts.

legislation or the decision of the course.

Its provisions are offended against when a hotel keeper selfs intoxicating liquors or wines on Sunday to a guest, whether the particular hotel is or is not his place of residence.

I therefore advise you that botel keepers have no right to turnish any intoxicating beverages whatever, whether also, wines, or other spirituous liquor, to their guests on Sunday, and that the selling that day is a mindemeaner, for which the offender may be arrested and punished as provided in the statute above quoted.

Superintendent Murray said yeaterday that he would rigidly enforce the law as thus interpreted.

Superintendent Murray said yesterday that he would rigidly enforce the law as thus interpreted.

"In view," he added, "of its having been the custom to permit hotel keepers to serve intextcants to their guests at meals, I will call the Captains together to-morrow, and, after reading to them the Corporation Counsel's opinion, will direct them to notify the hotel keepers in their respective precincts of its nature, and that they will be expected to comply with its requirements."

He summoned the Captains to meet him at the Central Office to-day at 11 A. M. There is some talk of an appeal to the Legislature for a relief bill.

The Rev. Dr. L. H. King, pastor of the Forty-fourth street M. E. Church, wrote on Saiday to Mr. Murray:

I desire to thank yon for the most quiet Sabbath have enjoyed in two years. The grog shops are closed; the gange of cray drankards who have hitherto monopolised the sidewalks have disappared, and order reigns along the Teuth avenue. All shall to our Police Department and its soble Chief. Yours were.

ment and its noble Chief. Yours ever.

If the citizens who drink rum find out that the new order of things has come to stay they will lay in their stock of Sunday rum on Saturday, and drink more rum than ever on Sunday out of spite—at least that is the way the rule has worked before with weak human nature.

Bestaurants which serve table d'hôte dinners with wine will have to leave the wine out on Sunday.

MISS LESLEY'S SINGULAR DEATH. A Possibility that it Will be Investigated by

Among the matters to be investigated by the new Grand Jury sworn in in Brooklyn yesterday will be, it is thought, the mysterious oting of Miss Anna C. Lesley at the house of George L. Nichols, 36 Pierrepont street, on April 23. Miss Lesley, a beautiful and accomplished young woman of 21 years, had come on from her home in Philadelphia on the previous day to visit a daughter of Mr. Nichols, with whom she had been acquainted for six years. Bo far as can be learned, there was no motive for suicide, and at the inquest, which was held by Coroner Rooney on the morning after her death, the jury brought in a verdict of accidental shooting. A brother of the young wo-death, the jury brought in a verdict of accidental shooting. A brother of the young woman came on from Philadelphia and testified that his sister always carried a revolver, and that she was devoted to shooting and other sports. He had not the slightest suspicion that she had committed suicide. District Attorney Ridgway has been examining the Coroner's minutes of the inquest, and yesterday he said to a representative of The Sun:

"I have not been asked to bring this case to the attention of the Grand Jury, but certain statements have been made to me, and if they are verified I may consider it my duty to do so. This case should be treated just the same as if it had occurred in a tenement instead of in a mansion on the Heights. I will not become a party to any suppression of the facts, whatever they may be. If the shooting was accidental, as the jury declared, there is nothing further to explain; but if Miss Lesley deliberately shot herself, it is very extraordinary that she should not have done so at her own home, but should have waited until she came to her friend's house in Brooklyn. I have been informed that within an hour after Miss Lesley's death an inmate of Mr. Nichols's house declared that the young lady had undoubtedly committed suicide, and that she had been driven to it by an unfortunate attachment. The matter may be still further investigated."

Coroner Rooney said yesterday:

"No obstacle was put in my way by Mr. Nichols or any member of his family to prevent a sifting inquiry. I was not able to learn that there was any cause whatever why Miss Lesley should kill herself. I told the jury that it was either an accident on a suicide, and they adopted the former theory. If it was a suicide, and they adopted. I was a slicycher a very extraordinary case."

NEVINS CAN'T FIND HIS BOOKS.

And the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Bacon Committee Can't Find Skeele.

Bacon's investigation of Bro affairs came to an end yesterday, at least so far as taking testimony in Brooklyn or this city is concerned. The Sergeant-at-Arms testifled that he could not find Franklin H. Skeele anywhere. Chief Nevins testified that he had not found his bank and check books of 1884. His memory was quite as poor in regard to all his financial transactions as on Saturday, and he still refused, with some warmth, to make any explanations of the matters Mr. Pope had testified to, He said he had bought Brooklyn District Telegraph stock from Mr. Pope, Mr. Newberry, and Mr. Hain, and, in addition, he thought he was an original subscriber. An agreement was shown from which he appeared to have owned S40 shares. He thought he paid money for all his shares, but was not sure about it. He knew Mr. Skeele only slightly.

Then Mr. Pope testified again. He said the checks representing the boodle alleged to have been given to Nevins to procure the electric light franchise were not handed to Nevins until May 16, 1884, while the franchise was passed by the Aldermen on the 12th. The checks were withheld because one of the makers had objected in a letter to paying any money to Nevins until the franchise was secured.

By Judge Green.—When did you see that letter that on Saturday, and he still refused, with until the franchise was secured.

By Judge Green.—When did you see that letter that you speak of? A.—Yesterday.

Q.—Where is it? A.—I burned it up.
Q.—So takes that probably you would be asked about it? A.—Yes, sir.
Q.—So you destroyed it? A.—I did, sir.
Q.—So you destroyed it? A.—I did, sir.
Q.—So that you should not have it here? A.—Yes, sir;
I did not suppose that you would want it.
Q.—You have kept it from less until now? A.—Yes, I have kept everything.
Q.—Except that letter? Yes; I destroyed that yesterday. Q.—What made you do it? A.—Well, it brought in a man that I didn't care to bring in. Q.—Is that all the excuse you have about it? A.—Yes.

The committee adjourned subject to the call of the Chairman. It is understood that if Mr. Skeele can be found he will be taken to Albany to testify. Lawyer Bette's Pictures and Curios.

Polleeman O'Brien's Way of Getting A sautted-Doesn't Like Sunday Music. Policeman John O'Brien of Capt. Gunner's command ushered two young men into the Yorkville Court yesterday morning. Their names were James E. Duffy of 1,569 Fourth Yorkville Court yesterday morning. Their names were James E. Duffy of 1,569 Fourth avenue and Francis Corson of 242 East Eighty-fifth street. Duffy, who is but 20 years old, presented a horrible appearance. His clothing was covered with blood, and the lower part of his face and head was covered with bandages. His jaw was swollen terribly, and is probably broken, and his nose appeared to have been flattened to his face. The officer accused him of having assaulted him because he told him to stop playing an accordion in the streets on Sunday night. Duffy said the pollecuman had clubbed him and reduced him to the condition he was then in without the slightest provocation.

A lady volunteered the statement that the pollecuman's action was entirely uncalled for. She said that she and her husband were on their way home when they saw O'Brien behind a pillar of the elevated road at Seventy-sixth street, apparently awaiting the arrival of the youths who were coming up the street. As they came up, she says, the pollecuman knocked the accordion out of Duffy's hand with his club and then struck him in the face with the weapon, and repeated the assault. Corson jumped to his friend's assistance, and both men and the pollecuman fell. Justice Duffy discharged thom.

Duffy had to have his injuries dressed by an ambulance surgeon.

Mrs. M. A. Dauphin of Philadelphia is well known to the ladies of that city from the great good she has done She writes Mrs. Pinkham of a recent interesting case. "A young married lady came to me suffering with a severe case of Prolapsus and Ulceration. She commenced taking the Compound and in two months was fully restored. Its proof of this she soon found herself in an interesting condition. Influenced by foolish friends she attempted to evade the responsibilities of maturity. After ten or twelve days she came to me again and she was indeed in a most alarming state and suffered terribly. I gave her a tablespoonful of the Compound every hour for eight hours until she fell asleep. She awoke much relieved and evidently better. She continued taking the Compound, and in due season she became the mother of a fine healthy boy. But for the timely use of the medicine she believes her life would have been lost."

Your Druggist has the Compound. 81 per bottle.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of direction and nutrition, and by a careful application of the flue properties of well-selected tocus, Mr. Tipps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage, which may save us many heavy doctor's fills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually infill up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortflied with pure shood and a properly nourished frame."—Livil Service danette.
